Losing Slowly - Out July 3rd

Written and Produced by Patrick Froese

‘Losing Slowly,’ the last song to release ahead of the upcoming debut album, centres around a family system that’s fading away. It acknowledges the happier memories of the past and the reality of what has been lost. It catches a glimpse into lives shattered by unaddressed mental health issues and instability in the home. Soaring harmonies blended with reverb soaked vocals; chorus infused guitar riffs combined with an exploration into the Chase Bliss Mood Pedal - all these ingredients come together to make this relaxed and somber track: Losing Slowly.
